Harmful Sexual Behaviour Workshop with NSPCC

The Teaching Partnership has arranged for a workshop on Harmful Sexual Behaviour to be delivered by our partner NSPCC. This session will be facilitated by Alexander Reynolds and Kimberly Barker from the National Clinical Assessment and Treatment Service (NCATS). The session is open to practitioners working for partner agencies and students studying any social work programme at Kingston University.

Having previously delivered a foundation level workshop, this particular session is at intermediate level. It will provide an opportunity:

- To review learning from previous HSB training
- To develop skills in the initial assessment of risk
- To equip practitioners to support parents to talk to children about sex/pornography
- To develop safety planning skills
- To share learning from HSB serious case reviews

The virtual platform used will be Zoom and the online event link will be shared with those signed up in advance of the session.
